

Professor David Egan

One Day / Half Day School INSET or Twilight Meetings after School

David Egan is Professor of Education at UWIC, where he is Director of the Centre for Applied Education Research. He has been involved in education in Wales for over 30 years, including thirteen years spent as a classroom teacher. From 2005 until 2007 he was Special Adviser for Education to the Welsh Assembly Government, where he served the First Minister, the Education Minister and the Cabinet. He has been one of the main thinkers behind the School Effectiveness Framework in Wales and works regularly with schools, Local Authorities and policymakers in developing and evaluating education policy.

Suitable for Senior Leadership Teams or Teacher Groups

School Effectiveness

School Leadership

Improving the Quality of Teaching in Schools

Challenges facing Schools and Education in Wales

The above are available to schools / groups of schools to suit your INSET days at the end and start of term

For booking information please contact

Victoria Deane, ND Training

Tel: 029 20 390150 (Option 6) or E-Mail victoria.deane@new-directions.co.uk

